If using LOC

Submit each application and provide the LOC to the university. The university will connect with EdAssist to obtain the course payment.

Global Campus has agreed to defer the invoice. At the end of the course the university will provide the invoice to EdAssist with the course grade. If the grade is successful, EdAssist will pay the university.

If the grade meets the employer's tuition assistance policy eligibility requirements, the employee's application will be closed.

If using reimbursement

NYP employees should request deferred billing with Global Campus and complete any necessary paperwork.

In the case that Global Campus requests an Employment Verification Form please reach out to the EdAssist Contact Center at (877) 276-7110 to obtain one.

Upon completion of a course, the participant should submit their grade report and invoice to EdAssist. All courses will be graded regardless of the charge. The participant must submit all grades for all courses taken, regardless if successful or unsuccessful and regardless of the charge.

If the grade meets the employer's tuition assistance policy eligibility requirements, the employee will be reimbursed and can then pay the university.

Depending on the degree program the participant will reach the $5,250 in tuition by course 4, 5 or 6, at which point the Full Tuition Grant will kick in and all other courses within that 12-month term will be $0.

It is important that the participant continue to submit information for all courses, even if they have a $0 cost and a $0 balance invoice, as each course needs to be tracked through EdAssist.
